Tools4ever starts next phase of UK expansion with move to new premises

Gloucester, UK [13th September 2011] - Tools4ever, a market leader in Identity and Access Management solutions, is embarking on a new phase of expansion of its UK Headquarters. The increasing importance of Identity and Access Management technology to corporations throughout the country for security, compliance and efficiency has meant the company is going from strength to strength. In order to adapt to the increasing demand for its solutions Tools4ever, Ltd has recently increased its workforce, and as such will be moving to new offices to incorporate this change.

The company, currently based in Gloucester, will be moving only a short distance to the town of Tewkesbury in Gloucestershire. They will be in good company as this location is home to global technology giants such as L3 and G4S.

Robert Doswell, Managing Director of Tools4ever, Ltd, had this to say about the new phase the company is entering into: 'I'm very pleased that we are continuing to grow in this increasingly dynamic sector. Identity and Access Management solutions are becoming ever more crucial to organisations and corporations all over the globe, and we will continue to innovate in order to not only meet, but exceed their needs.' From Thursday 15th September Tools4ever, Ltd will be based at the following address:
